George Mason University

Scoring Sheet for Writing Assessment in the Department of Mathematical Sciences (2009)

1.	Content of argument: Clear and follows assignment, including knowledge of material and conceptual sophistication. Arguments clearly state assumptions and conclusions. Irrelevant material is not included.
	☐ More than satisfactory ☐ Satisfactory ☐ Unacceptable
2.	Structure of Argument: Well-organized, well-developed, clearly stated exposition of the statement and proof.
	☐ More than satisfactory ☐ Satisfactory ☐ Unacceptable
3.	Documentation and citation: Sufficient reference to the needed theorems, definitions, and, where appropriate, literature.
	☐ More than satisfactory ☐ Satisfactory ☐ Unacceptable
4.	Mechanics: Word choice, syntax, grammar, spelling, punctuation, pronoun usage, and sentence formation are correct. Transitional phrasing is appropriate.
Writing: Overall score:
	☐ Highly Competent ☐ Competent ☐ Emerging Competence ☐ Not Competent